

WALTER SCOTT AND JOSEPHINE BJORKMAN PLUMMER

Walter Scott Plummer was born at Mt. Vernon, Illinois, on September 11, 1868. He married Josephine Bjorkman on January 31, 1897, at Heber City. She was born January 11, 1874, at West Jordan, daughter of Sven and Karen Bjorkman. Josephine died April 28, at Daniel, and Walter died September 19, 1942, in Salt Lake City.

As a small boy, Walter Scott's father he went to live with his mother a number of years. When he lived at the family home as Tacoma, Washington, where he spent some time he served in the Alpine. He died suddenly on Sept.

BEAUTIFUL UPON THE MOUNTAINS

clied to Utah, spending some years in Vernon and Heber. Somewhere in his early travels he learned the trade of a tailor. He did not follow that trade for long, although he worked at it somewhat at intervals.

Walter's wedding day and his wife's birthday were usually marked by some special dinner or party given by the Swedish relatives. When they were newly married they lived in Heber, but later moved to Daniel, where they reared their family.

There were seven children who grew to adulthood: Glen, Gail, Lodema, Harry, Perry, Eva and Riley.

From the year 1900 to 1928, the year of Josephine's death, both of them spent a most active community and Church life. Josephine served as president of the YWYMA at the same time Walter was president of the YMYMA. Together they built an active program for the young people. Parties were often held at the Plummer home in Daniel and the invitation was quite open to all. Walter was active in the ward drama program, amateur plays, often being produced by members of the ward. Much to the dislike of the children, he always played the part of the villain or other unlikable character.

During the years when both were active in Mutual work, the group entered into a reading program which was competitive in all the wards in the valley. Young and old were encouraged to read books for points. Reading the Bible had the greatest number of points and several in Daniel Ward read it. At the end of the reading period, which lasted several winter months, the points of all the wards were computed and Daniel was well in the lead. It was quite a triumph. Reading was always encouraged in the Plummer home and Josephine spent countless long winter evenings reading books to the youngsters. She was an interesting reader, but an extremely sensitive one. During the time we read "Uncle Tom's Cabin" she often had to stop and wipe away the tears or ask one of the children to read on for awhile until she gained composure. Reading was one of the most important pastimes of the home life.

In the community, Walter often served in Church capacities, such as Sunday School superintendent, chorister and teacher.

DANIEL BIOGRAPHIES

891

He was active almost continuously. He helped head a citizens' committee to install culinary water lines and later electric wire lines. Both these projects were highly successful. He worked in the irrigation companies and was secretary for the Daniels Creek and the Daniels Irrigation Companies for a time. He farmed both in Daniel and Canby Creek. For many years he handled produce to Park City to sell.

From 1916 to 1927, Josephine Plummer was extremely active in the Relief Society. Much of the time she was the president. During the winter months the members met in the Plummer home, and the gaiety and laughter of the group as well as the meetings themselves were wonderful relaxation. It was a most congenial and warm-hearted group of women.

Josephine Plummer was well remembered for her gentle disposition, her kindness to everyone, and her complete unselfishness. After 1928, the Plummer family went away to school or moved to other parts of the country. Walter Plummer still maintained his home in Daniel until about 1937, when he moved to Alpine, Utah County.

While making his home with his son Gail and wife Elva in Salt Lake, he died at the age of 74 years.

Their children are: Western (Glen), Edmund Gail, Lodema Priscilla, Cecil, George Walter, Clarence, Joseph Harry, Arthur Perry, Eva Plummer and Eugene Riley.

WALTER SCOTT AND JOSEPHINE BJORKMAN PLUMMER

Walter Scott Plummer was born at Mt. Vernon, Illinois, on September 11, 1868. He married Josephine Bjorkman on January 31, 1897, at Heber City. She was born January 31, 1874, at West Jordan, daughter of Swen and Karen Bjorkman. Josephine died April 13, 1928, at Daniel, and Walter died September 15, 1942, in Salt Lake City.

When he was a small boy, Walter Scott's mother died and he went to live with his uncle and aunt for a number of years. When his father remarried he lived at the family home until he was about 20. He left home and went West as far as Tacoma, Washington, and to Spokane, where he spent some years. During that time he served in the Washington state militia. Later he traveled to Utah, spending some years in Vernal and Heber. Somewhere in his early travels he learned the trade of a tailor. He did not follow that trade for long, although he worked at it somewhat at intervals.

BEAUTIFUL UPON THE MOUNTAINS

Walter's wedding day and his wife's birthday were usually marked by some special dinner or party given by the Swedish relatives. When they were newly married they lived in Heber, but later moved to Daniel, where they reared their family.

There were seven children who grew to adulthood: Glen, Gail, Lodema, Harry, Perry, Eva and Riley.

From the year 1900 to 1928, the year of Josephine's death, both of them spent a most active community and Church life. Josephine served as president of the YWMIA at the same time Walter was president of the YMMIA. Together they built an active program for the young people. Parties were often held at the Plummer home in Daniel and the invitation was quite open to all. Walter was active in the ward drama program, amateur plays often being produced by members of the ward. Much to the dislike of the children, he always played the part of the villain or other unlikable character.

During the years when both were active in Mutual work, the group entered into a reading program which was competitive in all the wards in the valley. Young and old were encouraged to read books for points. Reading the Bible had the greatest number of points and several in Daniel Ward read it. At the end of the reading period, which lasted several winter months, the points of all the wards were computed and Daniel was well in the lead. It was quite a triumph. Reading was always encouraged in the Plummer home and Josephine spent countless long winter evenings reading books to the youngsters. She was an interesting reader, but an extremely sensitive one. During the time we read "Uncle Tom's Cabin" she often had to stop and wipe away the tears or ask one of the children to read on for awhile until she gained composure. Reading was one of the most important pastimes of the home life.

In the community, Walter often served in Church capacities, such as Sunday School superintendent, chorister and teacher.

DANIEL BIOGRAPHIES

He was active almost continuously. He helped head a citizens' committee to install culinary water lines and later electric wire lines. Both these projects were highly successful. He worked in the irrigation companies and was secretary for the Daniels Creek and the Daniels Irrigation Companies for a time. He farmed both in Daniel and Center Creek. For many years he hauled produce to Park City to sell.

From 1916 to 1927, Josephine Plummer was extremely active in the Relief Society. Much of the time she was the president. During the winter months the members met in the Plummer home, and the gaiety and laughter of the group as well as the meetings themselves were wonderful relaxation. It was a most congenial and warm-hearted group of women.

Josephine Plummer was well remembered for her gentle disposition, her kindness to everyone, and her complete unselfishness. After 1928, the Plummer family went away to school or moved to other parts of the country. Walter Plummer still maintained his home in Daniel until about 1937, when he moved to Alpine, Utah County.

While making his home with his son Gail and wife Elva in Salt Lake, he died at the age of 74 years.

Their children are: Weston Glenn, Edmund Gail, Lodema Priscilla, Cecil, George Walter, Clarence, Joseph Harry, Arthur Perry, Eva Plummer and Eugene Riley.

WALTER SCOTT AND JOSEPHINE BJORKMAN PLUMMER

Walter Scott Plummer was born at Mt. Vernon, Illinois, on September 11, 1868. He married Josephine Bjorkman on January 31, 1897, at Heber City. She was born January 31, 1874, at West Jordan, daughter of Swen and Karen Bjorkman. Josephine died April 13, 1928, at Daniel, and Walter died September 15, 1942, in Salt Lake City.

When he was a small boy, Walter Scott's mother died and he went to live with his uncle and aunt for a number of years. When his father remarried he lived at the family home until he was about 20. He left home and went West as far as Tacoma, Washington, and to Spokane, where he spent some years. During that time he served in the Washington state militia. Later he traveled to Utah, spending some years in Vernal and Heber. Somewhere in his early travels he learned the trade of a tailor. He did not follow that trade for long, although he worked at it somewhat at intervals.

7 BEAUTIFUL UPON THE MOUNTAINS

Walter's wedding day and his wife's birthday were usually marked by some special dinner or party given by the Swedish relatives. When they were newly married they lived in Heber, but later moved to Daniel, where they reared their family.

There were seven children who grew to adulthood: Glen, Gail, Lodema, Harry, Perry, Eva and Riley.

From the year 1900 to 1928, the year of Josephine's death, both of them spent a most active community and Church life. Josephine served as president of the YWMIA at the same time Walter was president of the YMMIA. Together they built an active program for the young people. Parties were often held at the Plummer home in Daniel and the invitation was quite open to all. Walter was active in the ward drama program, amateur plays often being produced by members of the ward. Much to the dislike of the children, he always played the part of the villain or other unlikable character.

During the years when both were active in Mutual work, the group entered into a reading program which was competitive in all the wards in the valley. Young and old were encouraged to read books for points. Reading the Bible had the greatest number of points and several in Daniel Ward read it. At the end of the reading period, which lasted several winter months, the points of all the wards were computed and Daniel was well in the lead. It was quite a triumph. Reading was always encouraged in the Plummer home and Josephine spent countless long winter evenings reading books to the youngsters. She was an interesting reader, but an extremely sensitive one. During the time we read "Uncle Tom's Cabin" she often had to stop and wipe away the tears or ask one of the children to read on for awhile until she gained composure. Reading was one of the most important pastimes of the home life.

In the community, Walter often served in Church capacities, such as Sunday School superintendent, chorister and teacher.

DANIEL BIOGRAPHIES

He was active almost continuously. He helped head a citizens' committee to install culinary water lines and later electric wire lines. Both these projects were highly successful. He worked in the irrigation companies and was secretary for the Daniels Creek and the Daniels Irrigation Companies for a time. He farmed both in Daniel and Center Creek. For many years he hauled produce to Park City to sell.

From 1916 to 1927, Josephine Plummer was extremely active in the Relief Society. Much of the time she was the president. During the winter months the members met in the Plummer home, and the gaiety and laughter of the group as well as the meetings themselves were wonderful relaxation. It was a most congenial and warm-hearted group of women.

Josephine Plummer was well remembered for her gentle disposition, her kindness to everyone, and her complete unselfishness. After 1928, the Plummer family went away to school or moved to other parts of the country. Walter Plummer still maintained his home in Daniel until about 1937, when he moved to Alpine, Utah County.

While making his home with his son Gail and wife Elva in Salt Lake, he died at the age of 74 years.

Their children are: Weston Glenn, Edmund Gail, Lodema Priscilla, Cecil, George Walter, Clarence, Joseph Harry, Arthur Perry, Eva Plummer and Eugene Riley.

WALTER SCOTT AND JOSEPHINE BJORKMAN PLUMMER

Walter Scott Plummer was born at Mt. Vernon, Illinois, on September 11, 1868. He married Josephine Bjorkman on January 31, 1897, at Heber City. She was born January 31, 1874, at West Jordan, daughter of Swen and Karen Bjorkman. Josephine died April 13, 1928, at Daniel, and Walter died September 15, 1942, in Salt Lake City.

When he was a small boy, Walter Scott's mother died and he went to live with his uncle and aunt for a number of years. When his father remarried he lived at the family home until he was about 20. He left home and went West as far as Tacoma, Washington, and to Spokane, where he spent some years. During that time he served in the Washington state militia. Later he traveled to Utah, spending some years in Vernal and Heber. Somewhere in his early travels he learned the trade of a tailor. He did not follow that trade for long, although he worked at it somewhat at intervals.

BEAUTIFUL UPON THE MOUNTAINS

Walter's wedding day and his wife's birthday were usually marked by some special dinner or party given by the Swedish relatives. When they were newly married they lived in Heber, but later moved to Daniel, where they reared their family.

There were seven children who grew to adulthood: Glen, Gail, Lodema, Harry, Perry, Eva and Riley.

From the year 1900 to 1928, the year of Josephine's death, both of them spent a most active community and Church life. Josephine served as president of the YWMIA at the same time Walter was president of the YMMIA. Together they built an active program for the young people. Parties were often held at the Plummer home in Daniel and the invitation was quite open to all. Walter was active in the ward drama program, amateur plays often being produced by members of the ward. Much to the dislike of the children, he always played the part of the villain or other unlikable character.

During the years when both were active in Mutual work, the group entered into a reading program which was competitive in all the wards in the valley. Young and old were encouraged to read books for points. Reading the Bible had the greatest number of points and several in Daniel Ward read it. At the end of the reading period, which lasted several winter months, the points of all the wards were computed and Daniel was well in the lead. It was quite a triumph. Reading was always encouraged in the Plummer home and Josephine spent countless long winter evenings reading books to the youngsters. She was an interesting reader, but an extremely sensitive one. During the time we read "Uncle Tom's Cabin" she often had to stop and wipe away the tears or ask one of the children to read on for awhile until she gained composure. Reading was one of the most important pastimes of the home life.

In the community, Walter often served in Church capacities, such as Sunday School superintendent, chorister and teacher.

DANIEL BIOGRAPHIES

He was active almost continuously. He helped head a citizens' committee to install culinary water lines and later electric wire lines. Both these projects were highly successful. He worked in the irrigation companies and was secretary for the Daniels Creek and the Daniels Irrigation Companies for a time. He farmed both in Daniel and Center Creek. For many years he hauled produce to Park City to sell.

From 1916 to 1927, Josephine Plummer was extremely active in the Relief Society. Much of the time she was the president. During the winter months the members met in the Plummer home, and the gaiety and laughter of the group as well as the meetings themselves were wonderful relaxation. It was a most congenial and warm-hearted group of women.

Josephine Plummer was well remembered for her gentle disposition, her kindness to everyone, and her complete unselfishness. After 1928, the Plummer family went away to school or moved to other parts of the country. Walter Plummer still maintained his home in Daniel until about 1937, when he moved to Alpine, Utah County.

While making his home with his son Gail and wife Elva in Salt Lake, he died at the age of 74 years.

Their children are: Weston Glenn, Edmund Gail, Lodema Priscilla, Cecil, George Walter, Clarence, Joseph Harry, Arthur Perry, Eva Plummer and Eugene Riley.